Docuflow appointed to Government G-Cloud 12 Framework to provide cloud software services on the Digital Marketplace

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Docuflow are pleased to announce they have been named as a supplier on the UK Government's Crown Commercial Service's (CCS) cloud software framework.

It is the second consecutive year Docuflow have been appointed onto the G-Cloud Framework. It will provide world-class software including artificial intelligence, hybrid mail, content management, data capture and digital signature solutions, in addition to a whole host of cloud-based services to streamline Government workflows.

The Docuflow supplier agreement can be used by organisations across the UK public sector including central government, local government, health, education, devolved administrations, emergency services, defence, and not-for-profit organisations.

CCS supports the public sector to achieve maximum commercial value when procuring common goods and services. In 2018/19, CCS helped the public sector to achieve commercial benefits worth £945m – supporting world-class public services that offer best value for taxpayers.

Getting organisations to work smarter by streamlining processes by using cost effective technology is at the heart of Docuflow's business.

Chris Rowlands, Director at Docuflow said: "We are proud to be a recognised supplier to the UK Government for digital transformation requirements and projects.

"We have been helping UK organisations for over 10 years' to reduce their reliance on printed documents and laborious associated processes which paper documents can generate.

"These past few months have been particularly challenging for companies as they pivot to a new normal and look at digitising processes. We use our comprehensive expertise to help clients work more effectively through Docuflow cloud-hosted software solutions."

Docuflow are trailblazers in the field; by championing digital inclusivity and providing software solutions that are easy to implement and save precious time, they have become the go-to company to help businesses revolutionise workflows. DocuTrack, their flagship e-signature software, continues to be one of the bestselling solutions of the year. By dramatically compressing the signing cycle into just a few minutes, it is easy to see why clients are choosing DocuTrack as a way of doing business whilst working remotely.

Chris added: "Being a supplier on the UK Government's CCS cloud software framework is wonderful news. This means, that for the second consecutive year we can continue to drive change on the CCS cloud software framework, by helping businesses on their digital transformation journey. We look forward to continue delivering innovative cloud-based software and lead the way to a digital and sustainable future."
